Crannburn Software Limited

The company, its products, its customers, its environment

Crannburn Software Ltd is a successful software house providing innovative software solutions for a growing list of customers, both large and small, in the UK, Europe and the USA.

We develop custom multi-tier and Internet enabled enterprise-wide solutions, using only the latest rapid application development technologies, tools and techniques.

In addition to providing customised software solutions, we have also developed a range of specific data management systems that can be tailored to suit individual customer requirements. Ongoing significant investment in research and development ensures these systems are among the best in the world.

Applications include:

- Clinically based healthcare database systems
- Appointment and resource scheduling applications for a wide range of uses
- A unique sales coaching and training system for organisations with a large sales force
- Project costing systems for both manufacturing and service companies

The Company is built on the underlying values of excellence, integrity and service and our corporate mission is "to create innovative software solutions that provide real and lasting benefits to the customers we serve".

Quality systems and policy

Crannburn Software Limited is committed to delivery of quality products. We utilise the Rational Unified Process as our workflow and quality system. This system ensures that our software is designed and developed within a structured framework to meet our customer requirements.

Quality strategy for the future

Crannburn Software Limited hope to further develop our Rational Unified Process with the focus on achieving continued high standards in our products that both meet and exceed customer's expectations. Our short-term plans do not include formal accreditation but we may consider it in the future.
